Got So Thin He Became Scared

Just One Bottle of Nu Vim Iron Tonic Changed Conditions

Charles H. Beale, 4821 Monongahela St., Pittsburgh, Pa., began to get thin. He says: "I got so thin I was scared. My liver went on a strike and I lost weight all the time. My farm work was neglected, and I moped around half dead. Just one bottle of Nu Vim Iron Tonic changed things so that I began to put flesh on my bones. It made me feel like working. Two or three bottles more made me a well man." Thinness doesn't mean ill health, but when weight is steadily lost, it means something is going wrong. Usually it is the failure of the stomach to supply the proper nourishment, and Nu Vim Iron Tonic is the best thing known to strengthen the stomachs that are out of order. If you don't gain strength from your food, just try what a bottle of Nu Vim will do for you. It is purely vegetable, and the iron in it is from a vegetable source, so that your stomach welcomes it. On sale at all People's Drug Stores.

BRAND LUDENDORFF WITH COWARDICE

Vorwaerts, Socialist Paper, Calls Former War Chief Only a Theorist.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—In an open press feud between Ludendorff and the Socialists, Vorwaerts makes a bitter counter-attack, says a copy-righted dispatch from Berlin to the World. "The old Roman generals after their lost battles plunged themselves on their swords," it says. "Ludendorff plunges into ink. Ludendorff continues his efforts."

Vorwaerts charges Ludendorff with cowardice. "Where was Ludendorff when the catastrophe broke?" it asks, "and when Nostke, with a determined hand, gathered up the few remnants of the disintegrated army to save Germany from a Russian chaos? Ludendorff had run off to Sweden. Now that we again have relatively firm ground under our feet, Ludendorff has no higher ambition than to undermine the narrow foundation bearing the German state. Herr Ludendorff struts about in Achilles' armor. On a closer view he is nothing but a theorist."

Tickling Parrots With Feather Duster Wins Prize as Newest Job

Here is Washington's most extraordinary job.

Down in the Pan-American Union building, where the national industrial conference is being held, there is a spacious patio, filled with luxurious Latin-American palms and Peruvian parrots.

These Peruvian parrots have a squawk of the piercing, pervasive variety that rasps the ear-drums. John Barrett was irrefutably logical in concluding that if the parrots were permitted to squawk while capital and labor were getting together, well, capital and labor wouldn't get together.

John Barrett had discovered that the birds were susceptible to tickling. Tickle a Peruvian parrot and he is so intoxicated with joy he ceases rending the air with jungle cries.

Therefore, John Barrett delegated one of his satellites to tickle the parrots with a long feather duster while the conference was in session. He has invented a new form of human endeavor, and one that does credit to his imagination.

DON'T PAMPER YOUR STOMACH

Fear of Dyspepsia Robs the Entire System of Necessary Nutrient—Eat a Diversified Meal and With Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets You Will Avoid the Distress of Indigestion.

Just because the stomach sours with gasiness, heartburn, water brash and such distresses after eating, is not a good reason for depriving the system of nourishment.

Instead of indigestible and immutuable bran and skim milk try the better plan of eating what you like and follow your meals with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They digest food, they assist the stomach to secrete juices that keep the stomach sweet, active and with the alkaline effect, just as when the stomach is in perfect health. Nor is it necessary to discriminate. You may eat freely of onions, sausage, mince pie and baked beans, or other dishes, such as the average dyspeptic views with horror, and suffer no distress if you follow with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. There is thus no need to fear any kind of food at any time or place, for with these tablets, you may prevent those distresses that formerly made you pamper your stomach as if it were a tender infant. You can get Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in any drug store at 50 cents a box.

A Simple Way to Reduce Wrinkles

Remember that wrinkles and bagging of cheek or chin are due to the muscular tissue losing its strength and shrinking. The skin is then too large in area to fit such tissue smoothly. It wrinkles or sags.

To remedy this condition, there's nothing so effective, so quick-acting, as a simple wash lotion easily made at home. Just get an ounce of pure powdered saxonite at your druggists, and a half pint of witch hazel, mix the two and bathe your face in the liquid. This at once tightens the skin and solidifies the underlying tissue— which, of course, smooths out the lines and draws in the sagging skin. It also stimulates capillary circulation, bringing natural color to faded cheeks.

LOVE OF SON DRAWS PARENTS TOGETHER

Milton and Mary Martin Will Renew Marriage Vows Today.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 15.—Drawn together by their affection for their seven-year-old boy, an Arlington couple, Milton P. Martin, twenty-nine years old, and Mary E. Martin, twenty-five, today will renew the marriage vows which they went to court six months ago to have annulled.

As country boy and girl they were married ten years ago in Carroll county. Then they came to the city, and after the boy was born drifted apart. Then came the divorce, after which Martin went to 302 Belvidere avenue to live and his wife to 127 on the same street. It was decided that the boy should live with his father.

A few days ago they met. Mrs. Martin admitted that she was pining away for her boy. Then her former husband admitted that life wasn't nearly as pleasant as it had been under the old regime.

The license was obtained yesterday. Last night the couple did not know where they would be married or by what minister. And they say they don't care. All they know is that they are very happy and that there will be no "frills." And, not strange to relate, the happiest member of the party will be Harry, the curly-haired youngster.

CLEMENCY BRINGS BOY'S SIGHT BACK

Youth Stricken Blind When Sentenced to Prison Recovering After Parole.

Knery V. Billstone, of Dunkirk, N. Y., the sixteen-year-old boy who became blind from hysteria when sentenced to a penal institution for violation of a postal law, and who later was paroled by the Department of Justice, will regain his sight as a result of the clemency extended.

This information came today in a letter from the boy's father, received by Congressman Daniel A. Reed, of New York, who interested Attorney General Palmer and the Federal Pardon Board in the case. The father wrote that the boy's eyes are much improved and that the physicians held out strong hope of an early restoration of the eyesight.

The case was a most unusual one. The boy was delicate and took up chicken farming to be outdoors. He came into conflict with the postal laws and the court, convinced his transgression was unwitting, imposed the minimum sentence of a year and a day. Overcome by grief and fear, the boy suddenly became blind. Congressman Reed and the boy's father, acting on the advice of physicians, appealed for the boy's pardon. The illness of President Wilson prevented the case from being taken up with him to secure a full pardon, and Attorney General Palmer approved parole of the boy.

Will Fill a New Field in the Great Automobile Industry

THINK of the appeal in a Six Cylinder Car, built for the motorist of moderate income! The car must be one of unusual economies.

Only big quantity production can make such a car possible—and quantity production is not possible without a revolution from old principles of construction.

The Willys Corporation has produced exactly such a car. It is a revolutionary Six—and is one of the few great forward steps in automobile history since the invention of the pneumatic tire. It fills a great gap in the industry—and has a field all to itself.

Behind this revolutionary car is the Willys Corporation, one of the biggest and strongest manufacturing concerns in the automobile industry. At its head is John N. Willys, president also of the Willys-Overland Company, who has successfully built and sold over 650,000 automobiles.

The business of the Willys Corporation, exclusive of the building of the new Six, is the manufacture of Electric Auto-Lite, starting and lighting systems, and New Process Gears for transmissions and differentials of automobile trucks and tractors.

The Electric Auto-Lite business is the largest in its class in the industry. More starting and lighting sets for automobiles are, and have been made by this company than by any other two concerns in the business. Production is now at a rate of over sixteen hundred complete sets per day, and orders for future deliveries are on hand for four thousand sets per day. This company supplies the principal automobile builders.

The New Process Gear business was organized in 1912. Today it is one of the largest in the industry; and, because of the high quality of its products, the demand is constantly expanding. The factory covers a seven acre site and employs from 1800 to 2000 highly skilled operators.

In addition, the Corporation is producing the Willys Light for the lighting of country homes and farms. In the month of August alone, orders were received for 20,000 Willys farm-light outfits.

The extensive plants of these units are located at Toledo, O., Syracuse, N. Y., and Poughkeepsie, N. Y. They will be sources of supply for the construction of the new Six.

For the building of the new car the plant of the Duesenberg Motors Company, at Elizabeth, N. J., was purchased and is being enlarged to give a capacity of 400 to 500 complete motor cars per day.

The new Six has many new and outstanding features—an entirely new, but thoroughly proven, type of spring suspension being one of them. The car is of remarkably light weight—approximately 2,100 pounds and has notable road-holding, non-skidding and easy riding qualities. It has extraordinarily low gasoline consumption—17 to 20 miles per gallon. The chassis is a marvel of simplicity. The details are all noteworthy.

Anyone desiring further information about the plans and car program of the Willys Corporation should write for our booklet.
